Eligible Consumers

- Individuals found eligible for services funded by the Division of Behavioral Health are required to immediately report any significant changes in income, household composition, and/or other circumstance that affect eligibility status.
- Eligible consumers/families are required to complete an annual review of eligibility. The Behavioral Health Provider will inform consumers of the date of the review.

Ineligible Consumers

- All individuals initially found ineligible for services funded by the Division of Behavioral Health will have the option of completing the Hardship Considerations process. This form must be completed and turned in (with necessary verifications) to the Division of Behavioral Health within 60 days of the initial ineligibility determination. Failure to do so will result in the consumer/parent or guardian waiving his/her right to apply for the Hardship Consideration.
- Consumers or parents/guardians who do not wish to proceed with the Hardship Considerations process must sign a Refusal of Hardship Considerations Process form, which will be provided by the Behavioral Health Provider. This refusal waives the right for all appeals.
- A consumer or parent/guardian who is interested in the Hardship Considerations process should contact the Behavioral Health Provider for a Hardship Considerations form and assistance in completing the process (if desired). Once completed this form should be returned to the Behavioral Health Provider. The Behavioral Health Provider will submit all appropriate documentation and forms to the Division of Behavioral Health.
- Within 30 days of receiving the Hardship Considerations forms, the Division of Behavioral Health shall provide a determination regarding eligibility.
- A consumer or parent/guardian who is dissatisfied with the Division of Behavioral Health's decision regarding eligibility may request an Administrative Review (see process outlined below).

Administrative Review/Fair Hearing Process

- All individuals found ineligible for services funded by the Division of Behavioral Health, after the Hardship Considerations process, will be informed of their right to an Administrative Review. If still dissatisfied, a Fair Hearing, including the manner to initiate the review.
- A consumer or parent/guardian may appeal the decision regarding ineligibility by submitting the request in writing to the director of the Division of Behavioral Health within 30 days of receipt of the notice regarding ineligibility.
- Consumers may have the first four mental health visits paid for by the Division of Behavioral Health and/or the first four crisis intervention services paid for by the Division of Behavioral Health, while their eligibility is being determined. However, if eligibility has not been determined after the first four visits, then the consumer or parent/guardian is responsible for payment of services.
- The Director of the Division of Behavioral Health shall provide a determination within 30 days of receipt of the request for review.
- A consumer or parent/guardian who is dissatisfied with the Division Director's determination regarding eligibility may request a Fair Hearing by notifying the Department of Social Services (DSS) in writing within 30 days of receipt of the Director's decision.
- An impartial hearing officer will be sought to handle all arrangements and correspondence with the consumer and the Department of Social Services, including the date and location for the hearing. The hearing officer will send notice of the hearing to both parties.
- The consumer may be represented at his/her own expense by counsel or other appropriate advocate(s) and will be afforded the opportunity to examine all witnesses and other sources of information or evidence.
- The consumer or his/her representative may present additional evidence, information, and witnesses to the impartial hearing officer.
- Within 45 days of the hearing, the impartial hearing officer will provide a full written report of findings to the consumer (or designee if appropriate) and the Department of Social Services.
